Few Clues In Bombing

Intensive investigation has unearthed few clues in the fire bombing early last Friday morning of Randall County Abstract Company.

City and county officers are probing the case.

Fire set by Molotov cocktails tossed through the rear door of the firm set a fire which destroyed records dating back to 1902.

Dick Dawdy, owner of the business, said he believes the fire bombs were meant for the Kappa Alpha Order's club room which is located next door.

"I don't believe anyone dislikes me that much," Dawdy declared.

Kappa Alpha celebrated Old South Day last week end and was picketed last Thursday during mock secession ceremonies on the West Texas State University campus.

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston said three Molotov cocktails made from bed sheeting, gasoline and 7-Up bottles were tossed through the back door of the building.

One of the cocktails failed to ignite.

Senate Nixes Resolution Backing War

The Student Senate at West Texas State University refused to take action on two proposed resolutions—one backing President Nixon's Southeast Asia policy and the other calling for communication to avoid violence in student demonstrations.

One resolution was presented by the campus Young Republicans. The other was introduced by a senior senator.

Joe Jaquess, president of the Young Republicans, read his resolution, which stated that America has a definite

Future Plans Told For Palo Duro Park

The superintendent of Palo Duro State Park outlined Tuesday night for Sierra Club members present and future plans for expansion of park facilities and spoke briefly on a proposed road through the canyon and other planned projects.

Elon Baker, following his speech on proposed facility expansion, answered a number of questions concerning motorcycle use at the park, and the proposed highway which is forecast to run south easterly through the park.

Currently, he said, three new restrooms are under construction—one with a shower and two without showers. Also under present construction are two new loops for campers, one with water and electricity and the other with sewer, water and electricity.

Baker noted that expansion is to be completed on picnic facilities.

He said charges for campers will be higher in the new camp areas—$2.50 in the area with water and electricity and $2.75 for the area with sewer, water and electricity.

On the drawing boards for next year, is the renovation of the Coronado Lodge in the park at a cost of about $70,000.

Baker said the building will be completely remodeled on the inside, and that the entrance to the lodge area will be altered.

In the mill for the future perhaps for the next 10 years, are such projects as moving the park riding

GOP Backs War, Demos Hit Ralph In County Meets

Republicans

With cheers and mighty applause, Republican county convention delegates resolved Saturday night to support President Nixon on his Cambodia and Vietnam policies and to urge speedy military victory in these countries.

The resolution was one of almost 20 which the GOP passed during a calm session at Canyon High School.

Although it was handled delicately, the county party leaders made a quiet call for unity in the party during the convention.

The strongest call for a unified party came from Betty Sterquell, vice chairman of the county party, in remarks which closed the convention.

"The time has come for the Republican Party of Randall County to be a political entity in itself and not a vehicle for personal ideologies of limited scope," she said.

Mrs. Sterquell noted that during the primary elections this year, the Republicans had a full slate of candidates, many of whom were opposed on the GOP ticket.

"The enthusiasm of the contest has brought many new people to our primary and reawakened others to the party's potential," she said. "Many novices will be asked to serve, experienced workers will be asked to lend their leadership and guidance to accomplish a solid goal."

That goal, she said, is victory in November.

"We have candidates who have proved they can work together," she said. "It is the goal of the Republican Party in Randall County to elect the people in November who can lead with knowledge and qualification of their office, with dedication of serving those they represent, and with a unity of purpose."

Several resolutions passed by the delegates at the convention had a tone of unity.

One resolution passed stated that "this convention consider any Republican office holder who publicly supports the nominee of another party as having resigned his office."

Another stated "this convention supports all Repub-

Democrats

Randall County Democrats voted down a resolution to commend vanquished Senator Ralph W. Yarborough and passed by a narrow margin a resolution to send delegates to the state convention under the unit rule.

District Attorney George Dowlen was named permanent chairman and J. Hadley Edgar, Amarillo, secretary and at that point unity in the convention ended.

First resolution to be offered was one binding delegates to the state convention under the unit rule.

David Mathis, Canyon, a former County chairman and strong Yarborough supporter, spoke out against unit rule.

He said there will be serious contests at the national convention in 1972 and that if the unit rule is retained Texas might not be seated.

"We should make an effort to follow the leadership of the national party," Mathis declared.

O'Brien Thompson said he expects some action on the unit rule at the state convention and that he thinks the matter should be settled at the state level.

Dr. Samuel Fine, Amarillo dentist, said the unit rule robs a delegate of the right to act on his conscience.

He argued against waiting to follow the leadership of the state convention to decide.

"Let's go to the great white father and tell him we've made the decision right school and was skeptical of my own ability in music."

In 1931 he received a Master of Arts Degree from the University of Washington. Ten years later a doctoral degree was conferred upon him by the University of San Marcos in Lima, Peru, oldest institution of higher learning in the Americas.

He stayed on in Lima for four more years as director

Storm Holds Fear For Some In Canyon

While most Canyon residents viewed the destruction which followed two massive tornadoes in Lubbock Monday night and early Tuesday with a certain detachment, a few locals suffered pains of anxiety and frustration and fear.

For them Lubbock's disaster was much more personal. Bernard Warren and his wife of 2421 8th Ave. stayed up until about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday watching maps of the tornadoes' paths through Lubbock. They were sure their son, John, and his wife, Paula, were victims of the storm.

Jack Drake, an employee of the Santa Fe Railway and a Canyon resident, had gone into Lubbock for a late meal. He doesn't know what hit him, but his car is demolished.

Steve Munday, a senior student at West Texas State University, left about 11:30 p.m. Monday with his roommate to join up with National Guard units in Lubbock. On the spot, Munday viewed what was left of downtown Lubbock and of the prosperous country club addition. It's a night he'll not soon forget.

The Warrens spent an uneasy night, unable to contact their son. Finally, about 6 a.m. Tuesday, a call came through to Canyon. They were alright. Their car was wrecked and their apartment sustained heavy water damage.

John and Paula, who were married about nine months ago, had sought shelter from the tornadoes in a small clothes closet in their apartment.

At one point, when they thought the storm had passed over, John left the closet to see the damage. He immediately saw a second funnel cloud heading for the apartment and jumped back into the closet.

Warren said he and his wife had a rough time driving to the apartment. Roads were flooded, he said, power lines were down and fallen telephone poles blocked many streets.

When they arrived at the apartment house, they found the roof completely blown away. Fortunately, John and Paula lived on the lower floor of the building.

While moving the younger Warrens to a new apartment, Warren skirted the downtown areas.

"It's every bit as bad—well, actually the pictures in today's paper don't show how terrible it really is," he said.

Drake, who was able to put a call through to his wife, Betty, late Monday, said he was in his car and beginning to drive along the street when suddenly the car windows popped out. He said he strapped his seat belt and pulled up beside a brick building.

When the storm passed, he surveyed the damage. The hood, trunk and top of his car were crushed and the sides were beaten in. Munday and his roommate left Canyon for Plainview about 11:30 p.m., after the roommate felt his National Guard unit might be called to duty.

When they arrived at Plainview they were told to proceed to Lubbock. They arrived about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

For several hours, Munday and his roommate repaired a 2½-ton truck for use by the Guard.

About 4:30 a.m., they were told to drive to the country club addition in Lubbock and search for injured or dead.

When they arrived at the addition, they found it leveled.

"Houses looked like match sticks," Munday said. "Debris was all over the place. The houses were flattened."

COVERING FUMBLE
has left him

I agree with him that there are too many people in the world—but it occurs to me that I am now one of the expendable ones and he is blissfully unaware that he is in the same predicament.

Munday said they searched briefly but found no injured or dead.

He said he found one crushed car with the headlights still on. Another demolished vehicle had the dashboard lights on.

Munday said he heard from other National Guardsmen that as soon as the storm ended, "kids started looting."

The two returned to the armory and Munday decided to return to Canyon. But, he did see the devastation in downtown Lubbock.

"The First National Bank Building had all its windows busted out," he said. "Some floors it looked like had been ripped completely out of the building. All that nice carpet and fine furniture was toppled into the street outside."

Munday said the slum areas around downtown Lubbock were completely leveled.

"There was nothing left but pieces of tar paper and wooden frames," he said.

County Commissioners Purchase Radar Unit For Highway Patrol

Randall County Commissioners had a light agenda Monday as they took action to purchase a radar unit for Department of Public Safety patrolmen in the county and opened bids for radio equipment for the sheriff's department.

Highway Patrolman Ron Boyter appeared before the commission to give a report on effectiveness of a radar unit rented by the county about two months ago.

Boyter said that in January and February, he filed about 30 cases in the county.

He said that after the rental of the radar unit, he filed 40 cases in March, 48 in April and has filed 23 in seven days of May.

As of May 8, he said, 134 persons had pleaded guilty to the speeding violations and had paid fines totaling $3,210.

When asked if the radar unit had helped slow down traffic in the county, Boyter

FROM THE CANYON RIM

If you doubt that both parties are pretty badly torn in Randall County, then you just haven't been keeping up with politics.

The difference in the two party conventions last Saturday night seemed to be that the Republicans had their infighting pretty well settled before convention time and it flared on the floor at the Demo meeting.

Delegates who made it to the Republican convention were pretty much of like mind on substantial matters. The GOP differences were settled at the polls May 2.

The candidacy of Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud was a test for the ultra conservative wing of the county GOP. Stroud lost to Joseph Schley, an Amarillo attorney and former judge of the corporation court, by a lopsided margin and likewise most of the mayor's sidekicks were cut down in balloting on precinct chairmen and lost out when delegates to the county convention were selected.

A few made it however, enough to make the GOP convention interesting. One such delegate was shouted down by the convention when he took to the floor with some disparaging remarks about President Nixon.

Schley was on the GOP convention resolutions committee which came forth with a resolution putting delegates on record as favoring legislation requiring all judges to be licensed attorneys.

Surely this resolution was not drawn by an attorney or by anyone who gave much thought to it, for that matter.

If this resolution were to become law as presented, it would require that the corporation judge of the tiniest hamlet and the justice of the peace of the most remote precinct be a licensed attorney.

The Democrats could have topped this resolution. They could have put their candidate for county judge, Woody Pond, on the resolutions committee and Pond, a former county judge of Roberts County, could have come up with a resolution designed to require that to become judge of a county the size of Randall a candidate must have served as judge in some smaller county—an apprenticeship so to speak.

The Republicans passed a resolution favoring legislation "which would reinstate prayer in schools." I wonder when folks will become aware of the fact that there is no legislation nor court mandate which would prohibit prayer in schools.

People have been under the misapprehension that a high court ruling forbids prayer in schools. I think I am correct in saying that the court held that no state or sub-division of government may prescribe a prayer to be used by school students.

Politics can be amusing. The Democrats commended Senator Grady Halzewood for a job well done in the state senate and named him honorary head of the Randall County Democratic delegation to the state convention.

A little less than two years ago Grady was accused of defecting to the Republicans when he introduced Ronald Reagan at a GOP rally in Amarillo.

The Randall County Republicans commended County Judge Carroll Brown. Brown ran for county judge on the Democratic ticket in 1968 and then sought appointment to the bench of the 181st District Court from Democratic Governor Preston Smith.

Judge Brown moved over to the Republican stable coincident with his announcement for the judgeship. Brown will be opposing Don Dean, Governor Smith's appointee, in the general election next fall.

Crack in the Democratic ranks became obvious Saturday night when the vote came on the unit rule question. The split was 101 to 89 with the conservatives emerging as victors.

The differences flared into fury when the convention refused to commend defeated Senator Ralph W. Yarborough.

The liberals—led by David Mathis and Dr. Sam Finesat—tight-lipped while the conservatives passed the Hazlewood resolution, hoping no doubt for a crumb from the table for their hero.

It must have been hard for Mathis and his group to curb their feelings when the convention honored the state senator. There never has been much love lost between the Canyon senator and the Yarborough element of his home county.

Hazlewood's name became anathema to the liberal group after he stood up for Reagan in Amarillo.

What to do about patting Senator Yarborough on the head, saying goodbye and retaining the support of the senator's following without embarrassment to Lloyd Bentsen next fall had the Randall County Democratic Party and indeed the state organization in a dilemma.

The state convention will be faced with the same enigma.

Typically Yarborough and some of his associates have accused Bentsen of winning through employment of hate, lies and smear.

How can the state Democratic convention pass a resolution commending Senator Yarborough without giving substance to his accusations in a manner which would reflect unfavorably on Bentsen in his race with Republican George Bush?

On the other hand, if Yarborough is snubbed by the state convention the extremes of the party undoubtedly will be further polarized. This could elect Bush as it was credited with having elected John Tower in years past.

Both wings of the Randall County Democratic Party are determined. Conservative determination was evidenced when the resolutions committee ignored the Yarborough resolution.

Stubborn streak in the liberal wing was reflected in Dr. Fine's demanding the floor to read the resolution.

It's defeat caused Dr. Fine to level charges of hypocrisy against the majority.

I made both conventions Saturday night. I sat through all the Democratic convention and a part of the Republican convention.

It looks like the two-party system is here to stay in Randall County. Bill Butler was the first Republican ever to be elected to Randall County office as far as I have been able to learn.

Other Republicans now serve as tax assessor-collector and county clerk. Remainder of the county posts are held by Democrats.

Both Republicans and Democrats are running for most county offices open this year. This gives the people a choice.

The county is bound to benefit.

I want to commend the Republican convention for passing a resolution backing the President's position in Vietnam and Cambodia. I wish the Democrats had passed a similar resolution.

Along this line of thought, President Nixon polled 11,400 votes in Randall County in 1968. Dissenters were able to muster some 500 names—their figures—on a campus of some 8,000 opposing the President's Indo-China policy.

To whom do you think the President should pay attention, the 500 or the 11,400.

Contract Given

The Texas Highway Commission, during its May meeting, awarded contracts to W. D. Turner Construction Co. of Lubbock for seal coating of about 10.5 miles of highway in Randall County.

The Randall County coating is part of a larger project which includes seal coating of more than 142 miles of road.

The seal coating is to take place from 2 miles north of Canyon on U. S. 87 to 45th Avenue in Amarillo.

All the furor over racism is just another plank in the insidious platform to divide and conquer America.

No one enjoys being stereotyped, or having his courage or motives impugned. Forty years ago the destructive word was "piker." Young people did all sorts of foolish things rather than be called pikers. Next it was "chicken." Who knows how many fine youngsters died in the grinding crash of speeding steel just to prove they were not "chicken?" (Actually, it takes far more courage to endure ridicule.)

Then colonialism became a dirty word. Several helpless Asian and African nations are being destroyed because the mother countries were given a guilt complex over colonization. Young nations are no more capable of self direction than young children. Look at Cuba!

Now it is "racism." The majority of black people pre-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Several weeks ago for Clean-Up Week, you featured a picture of a vacant house on the corner of 5th and 27th. The picture caption noted the trashy appearance of the house and yard, and the presence of child hazards in the form of several refrigerators with doors.

I think in all fairness you should do a follow-up on this area. All trash has been picked up and the refrigerators and other furniture removed. Items such as posts, bricks and wire have been neatly stacked. Somebody, I would guess the owner, put in some hard work, and while it was your picture that pointed out the problem, he deserves some credit.

Another area on the adjacent corner was not included in your pictures, but should have been. A vacant lot around a long tin garage was overgrown with tall weeds, littered with trash, rocks, dead trees and abandoned farm equipment, and had several deep holes. It was a real eyesore, a menace to neighborhood children who played in the lot, and a fire and health hazard.

Two weeks ago a man, perhaps the owner, started to work on it. By himself at first, and later with the help of two or three men and women in the evenings, he burned what he could and removed all else. Dead trees were removed and the existing ones were trimmed back. The holes were filled in. The weeds were not only cut, but in front of the garages they were completely graded out.

This man and his helpers put in a week of very hard work and expense to effect an almost 100% change in the appearance and condition of this lot, and thus the neighborhood. They deserve some recognition for their efforts.

Sincerely yours,
Ken Dollinger.

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those that made the Canyon Clean Up Campaign such a success.

Our special thanks goes to the coverage of your paper. Without such publicity there could have not been such results. Also to the civic organizations, boy scouts and girl scouts, Canyon High School Art Department, fraternities, the city of Canyon and all the individuals that did their part we are especially grateful.

The lovely flowers that are planted in the barrels around the square were a donation of Irwins Greenhouse. Again our thanks to them for these.

When a community works together on such a project results are going to happen and we feel that they certainly did.

Sincerely,
The Women's Division
Chamber of Commerce

Paul Ferguson, refuge manager of Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, will speak to the members of the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday in regard to the pollution problems of the area and Buffalo Lake.

fer their own schools, churches, and social functions. After having experienced white society in these areas, there is an increasing demand for black dormitories, black teachers, counselors, etc.

And the majority of white people prefer white schools, churches, and social functions. But for fear of being called "dirty racists" they are standing mutely on the sidelines while the noisy, dissident minority destroys in a few days a society that has required centuries to build.

Christians should be able to work and worship together regardless of race or color, and they do—all over the world. But where they congregate in sufficient numbers, they are usually happier in their own social groups.

In Lawrence, Kansas a tiny minority of black high-school students rioted until the school closed because the white student body refused to elect black queens and 2 out of 5 black cheerleaders. When black students have their own schools they can enjoy all black leaders.

No law can be enforced in a democracy unless the majority of the people approve it. School integration has failed because it is against the will of the majority; it can only be enforced by a police state.

Black people and white people, like all good neighbors, like each other better when each goes his own way. There are many races in the world, and they are all different. Pretending they are alike does not change the facts. When any race is forced to forsake its customs and way of life, the unique contribution that particular race has to make to the world is forever lost.

The peculiar talents of each race is essential to the master plan of the universe. It is reported (with pride) that of the 9 black students who "integrated" the public schools at Little Rock, 5 married whites.

Whether or not intermarriage is the goal of integration, it is the result. What right has any man to deny his children the heritage of a proud and ancient race?

The adjustments required for a happy marriage are demanding enough without one crossing the lines of custom, color, race, and religion. Acquiring an education is also sufficiently difficult without handicapping it by forcing students into learning situations fraught with tension, upheaval, and danger.

The Creator made His crowning creation a creature of free will and choice, limited only by respect for his Creator, and the rights of his fellowman. When any man is deprived of his birthright, he becomes frustrated and unhappy. Unhappy people are seldom productive, so society suffers.

If the mute majority of good Americans—regardless of their color—do not begin thinking for themselves, repudiate the destructive stereotypes applied to them, and face up to reality, the American way of life may soon be gone, and perhaps America too.

Adults can see the danger in the game of "chicken" the teenagers used to play. Yet we are playing a far more dangerous game when we allow the epithets hurled at us by our enemies to direct our conduct.

Americans need to ascertain the facts in every controversy, and have the courage to stand on their convictions. Sheep who follow the Judas goat end up in the slaughterhouse.

Karen Stephens Art Reception Slated May 17 At University

An artist's reception for Mrs. Karen Stephens will be held Sunday, May 17, in the lounge of the Fine Arts Building from 2-5 p.m.

Her work may be viewed weekdays from 2-4 p.m. through May 22.

Mrs. Stephens, a graduate of a Houston High School, attended South Texas

Junior College and the University of Houston and received her B.S. degree from West Texas State University.

She will be the first person to receive a Master of Art degree from West Texas State, as this is the first year this degree has been offered in the art department. She taught art in the Amarillo Independent School District in 1969 and in a recent show at Dumas took two first place honors in painting and in sculpture.

Her thesis project, a set of bronze lost-wax cast chessmen, will be displayed along with other works including graphics, water colors and bronze sculptures.

National Hospital Week Observed Across Nation

Since its initial opening in September 1937, Canyon's hospital and facilities have undergone constant upgrading procedures in an effort to provide health care for the citizens of Canyon and area.

This week is National Hospital Week across the nation, and although no special activities are being conducted at the local hospital, the staff is presently improving facilities by installing new draperies throughout the hospital.

When established the hospital was privately owned by Dr. R.A. Neblett, who had studied the need for a hospital in Canyon since 1932. Approval of the hospital construction and assistance to Dr. Neblett was given by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Regents at West Texas State University approved a contract with Dr. Neblett to provide hospitalization for students.

The original building cost $25,000 and contained a total of 4,000 square feet of floor space. It was built in the present location at Sixth Avenue and 16th Street.

In August 1959, Dr. Neblett retired after 27 years as practicing physician and sold the hospital to three remaining hospital staff members: Dr. Leta Boswell, Dr. Charles R. Nester and Dr. J. Manly Bryan.

In September 1966, the hospital's ownership was transferred into a foundation and renamed Neblett Memorial Hospital and Clinic. Numerous additions have been made to the hospital bringing it to a current licensing as a 35-bed hospital with R.E. Grimes as hospital administrator.

The active medical staff of the facility are Leta N. Boswell, J. Manly Bryan, J. Edwin Low, G. Dudley Moore, Jr. and Charles R. Nester with a four-member consulting staff including Howard M. Bordelon, urology; Robert F. Hyde, orthopedics; Royal F. Werts, radiology and John V. Denko, pathology. Dr. Hiram R. Carr is listed for the hospital dental staff.

In addition the hospital has approximately 45 full time and parttime employees making a full-time equivalent of about 36 persons.

Operating budget for the hospital in 1969 was $345,000,000 of which $177,500 was for salaries.

A statistical breakdown of patients for 1969 shows the following facts: 550 admitted for medical care using 2378 patient days care; 576 admitted for surgical care totalling 2861 patient days care; 24 admitted for pediatric care totalling 65 patient days; 241 admitted for obstetric care totalling 747 days; and 201 newborn babies totalling 683 patient care days.

Of the breakdown totals (excluding newborn babies) 274 of the patients were Medicare patients who stayed 2025 patient days and 136 patients were college students who stayed 290 patient days. The Medicare and college student patients totalling 29.3 percent of the patients and 38.2 percent of the days spent in the hospital.

Altar Society Installs Slate Of Officers

Mrs. John Wiek was installed as new president for St. Mary's Altar Society at Umbarger in a recent candlelighting ceremony.

Conducting the installation was Mrs. Alice Koch. Other officers installed were Mrs. Robert Koch, vice president; Mrs. Carroll Adams, secretary; Mrs. John Beckman, treasurer; Mrs. Bill Bauer, historian; Mrs. Richard E. Friemel, parliamentarian; Mrs. Sylvester Batenhorst, reporter; and Rt. Rev. M.F. Schafle, spiritual director.

Twenty-four members attended the installation and business meeting which was hosted by Mrs. Henry Bracht and Mrs. Don Dolle.

draperies being installed at the hospital this week in a continuing effort to upgrade hospital facilities in the city.

The challenge of being the only.

As any wise husband knows, no woman likes to be taken for granted. It's the little things that count, like remembering anniversaries, or bringing home flowers for no particular reason.

Like the wise husband we try not to take you, our customer, for granted. Being the only phone company in town, we make a special effort to be courteous, kind, considerate, and understanding.

The fact that we are the only phone company in town is a challenge. The challenge is "not to act like it."

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—and so do its readers.

Dr. Gerald E. Schultz, associate professor of geology at West Texas State University, has received a two-year grant totaling $16,800 from the National Science Foundation for fossil research in the Texas Panhandle. His research should give a clearer picture of the climate and environment of the area during the middle Pleistocene epoch, about 1½ million years ago.

Geology Prof Receives $17,000 Grant

Dr. Gerald E. Schultz, associate professor of geology at West Texas State University, was awarded a $16,800 grant by the National Science Foundation for fossil research in the Texas Panhandle.

It was only the second NSP grant awarded an individual at West Texas State. Dr. Paul Wayne Lambert, associate professor of geology, received the first grant last year for studies of deposits of Quaternary volcanic ash in the Panhandle and adjacent parts of New Mexico. The grant comes at a time when there is a general nationwide curtailment of private financing for research done on university campuses.

Schultz, 33, said today his research would consist of collecting vertebrate fossils from strata immediately below the volcanic ash studied by Lambert.

"This volcanic ash, called the Pearllette Ash, is unique in the Great Plains and provides an important stratigraphic time marker for sediments of the Pleistocene epoch," Schultz said.

Schultz added that Lambert's "work will show whether the ash deposits represent one or more ash falls in the region" while his "will help date the ash beds by means of the vertebrate fauna found below the ash."

He said, "Fossils found so far indicate the types of animals that lived in and around ponds and playas into which the volcanic ash fell or was washed."

"A study of the fauna will also help determine the type of climate or environment which existed in the Panhandle about one million to one and a half million years ago when the ash was deposited."

Schultz said that similar studies have already been done in North Central Texas, Kansas and Nebraska, thus contributing to an over-all picture of conditions in the Great Plains during the middle of the Pleistocene epoch.

The grant is for two years, Schultz said, and will be used mainly for field work, purchase of equipment and payment to four student assistants.

"Students interested in working as a summer field assistant on the project are urged to apply through the West Texas State University geology department," he said.

Schultz said the work this summer and next will involve removing tons of dirt from a number of sites. The dirt will be brought to the university where watering troughs and copper screen bottom boxes will be used to screen it for tiny fossils.

The painstaking task of examining and identifying the various fossils found will be done by Schultz during the winter months.

Schultz, a native of Red Wing, Minn., received Bachelor and Master of Science degrees in geology from the University of Minnesota and a Doctor of Philosophy Degree in geology from the University of Michigan.

Schultz, who joined the West Texas State faculty in 1964, is the author of several research publications in various scientific journals and symposia. He has held previous grants from Organized Research Fund at West Texas State.

Dick Flenniken Injured In Wreck

Methodist Church Scholarships Offer Aid Through Music Field

A plan strengthening the music program of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon was begun in the fall of 1968 through provision of music scholarships to university students.

Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor, related that in the summer of 1968 he envisioned the addition of university student assistants to the choral groups which sang in the morning services. Funds were not allocated in the budget of the church, and thus interested laymen who shared his convictions joined him in providing small salaries.

In September of 1968, three music majors at West Texas State University became the first recipients of the music scholarships. They were Alicia Boone, Wayne White and Nancy Davis.

Gene Murray, director of the church music program, and the three students became the quartet for the 8:30 Sunday worship service and the students also sang at the 11 a.m. worship, thus assuring leadership in each section of the Sanctuary Choir.

The fall of 1969 brought numerical growth to the scholarship group and Mrs. Jan Boone was named to succeed Murray as church music director and two senior voice majors, Lynda Sharman and Chris Munn, were appointed as associate directors.

Miss Sharman works with the children's choirs and Munn leads the bell choirs. Miss Sharman and Munn also join six other scholarship musicians (Margaret Hathaway, Alicia Boone, Leslie Holladay, Buddy Roland, Terry and Jerry Landrum) to sing for the early service and assist with the 11 o'clock service.

Salaries for Mrs. Boone, Miss Sharman and Munn are budget allocations of the church. Individual contributions within the membership continue to underwrite the honorariums for the other musicians.

Rev. Peery considers the appointments as "work" scholarships and anticipates that in time funds will be increased where more students will be receiving assistance and when all money will be pledged through the budget of the church.

Although the Canyon United Methodist Church is not the first congregation offering such assistance to deserving students, it is pioneering the program in this section of the state.

The pastor recommends that the "work" scholarship program is a way for congregations to improve the quality of their church music in addition to providing financial assistance to worthy students.

of the U.S. Department of State's Information Center. The Peruvian government cited his contributions to that South American country's educational system by conferring on him the Order of the Sun, highest award to a civilian in Peru.

Two other honors were presented Harper in recent years for service to education.

The American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese named him Distinguished Teacher of the Year in 1967. Last year he received the $1,000 Faculty Excellence Award at West Texas State.

Harper became chairman of the modern languages department at West Texas State in 1946 after one year as director of personnel in the division of libraries and cultural institutes of the State Department in Washington.

In his 24 years as chairman, the department increased from two to seven faculty members and the number of courses offered in Spanish, French and German grew to 41.

"We have been the fastest growing department in recent years," he said. "Our enrollment has increased about 600 per cent over the years."

The department offers majors and a teaching field in French and Spanish and a teaching field in German. However, a foreign language is required only in obtaining a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

"The largest percentage of language teachers in the Panhandle have received part of their training at West Texas State," Harper said. "We cannot supply the demand for teachers."

Harper instituted the use of language laboratories at West Texas State—an electronic method of instruction. Although facilities for only two laboratories are available, he said "several more will be needed in the near future."

He also helped to inaugurate the popular language film series which draws viewers from all across the Panhandle to the campus.

"There is a growing interest in foreign languages in schools around the country," he said. "The need for bilingual teaching is great, especially in those areas of Texas and the Southwest where the population of Mexican-Americans is high."

Harper was the founding member of two chapters of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Total price of the radar unit is $1,750.

Three bids were received by the court for complete radio facilities for the sheriff's department.

Included are several two-way radio units, a radio control station and installation. Currently, the sheriff's radio facilities are operated from a control unit in the Canyon Fire Department.

Although bids were opened, no contract was let pending study by the sheriff. From the bids received, though, the price for the equipment could range from $6,000 to $6,600.

The commissioners passed unanimously a motion requiring landowners to buy their own culverts. The county will continue to install the culverts at no charge.

Action on the motion came after Commissioner Bill Butler said he feels "the cost are out of line."

He said he had just paid a $500 bill for culverts.

Welch was graduated from Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, in 1961 and received a master's degree at the University of Oklahoma in 1964.

He was a member of the modern languages faculty at West Texas State from 1964-66 and spent one year as a Fulbright Scholar in Vienna, Austria. He has been at the University of Pennsylvania since 1967 working on a Ph.D.

lican nominees in the general election.

Just two resolutions presented the convention failed to pass. One involved calling for convention opposition to the importation and exportation of goods from communist or communist dominated countries. The other involved convention support of a change in collection of state sales taxes.

One resolution, calling for convention support of legislation to allow voters to elect a President and Vice President by popular vote, died for lack of a motion.

A resolution seeking the support of the convention for legislation allowing Councils of Government or Regional Planning Commissions to function after voter approval was tabled.

Other resolutions passed by the convention called for increase law enforcement in terms of drug abuse, inciting riots. Some called for support of bills to repeal the Gun Control Act and to prevent subversives from working in defense plants.

Several resolutions commended Republican office holders.

Dick Brooks, county chairman, was elected permanent convention chairman.

In other business, the Republicans selected more than 40 delegates to attend the state convention in Fort Worth.

Dr. Cook Elected

Dr. Hollis L. Cook of West Texas State University was among those recently elected to a position for the Texas Association of College Teachers.

Dr. Cook was named to the state executive committee. He will assume duties to the office on June 1, 1970.

At the spring state meeting of the TACT in Austin representatives studied research committee reports and formed TACT's 1971 legislative program.

stables, construction of a residence on the canyon floor and construction of numerous picnic and camping areas.

Baker said a road which is proposed by a group of citizens from various cities in the Panhandle and which would come into the park from the south and east could give the park access to Ceta Canyon.

Under questioning by Sierra Club members, Baker said he does not know if the road will be approved and if so, where it will be located.

Dr. John Denko, an Amarillo Sierra Club member told the group he recently talked with Pete Gilvin, a state official, concerning the road.

He said Gilvin told him there are currently no funds appropriated for a road in the canyon or to the canyon.

"It would be a tragedy if this road was put there," said Dr. Wayne Lambert, another Sierra Club member.

He said if the road is built on the floor of the canyon to join the existing park road, it would ruin the only remaining pristine area of the canyon floor.

Several members also asked Baker about current restrictions on motorcycle usage in the park.

Baker said motorcycles are supposed to be restricted to two specific areas in the park, but he admitted that enforcement of such restrictions is almost impossible.

He said until proper legislation concerning motorcycles in state parks is passed, his hands are tied.

here," he declared.

J. D. Webster, Amarillo, said the unit rule is the only means that the county convention has to insure that its delegates to the state convention will carry out its wishes.

Vote on the resolution was 101 for and 89 against.

The group approved a resolution urging stiffer penalties for those who sell or give away narcotics.

The convention commended State Senator Grady Hazlewood for services to the area and named him honorary chairman of the Randall County delegation to the state Democratic convention.

No opposition was voiced but many delegates abstained remembering, no doubt, that the Potter County Democratic executive committee asked Senator Hazlewood to resign after he introduced Republican Presidential Candidate Ronald Reagan at a rally in Amarillo in 1968.

The Yarbrough resolution was not brought by the resolution committee.

Dr. Fine asked for and was granted the floor to read the resolution which he said was ignored by the committee.

Dr. Fine moved acceptance of the resolution as he finished reading and there was a second from Mathis.

"The motion failed," declared Chairman Dowlen after a voice vote and then immediately gavelled the convention to a close.

"I find this convention short on those values which they themselves gave lip service to in the form of an opening prayer," Dr. Fine commented caustically on failure of the Yarbrough resolution.

Four of the 18 delegates named to the state convention are from Canyon. They are George Dowlen, Joe Gidden, Ken Olsen and Jim Fletcher.

Delegates from Amarillo include J. Hadley Edgar, Marion Bruce, Don Dean, R. Earl O'Keefe, L. O'Brien Thompson, Charles Short, Jim Walker, Maston Courtney, W. D. Campbell, S. B. Whittenburg, Jim Fletcher, J. M. Simpson, Jr., Max Sherman, Selden Simpson and Edward Fletcher.

Canyon people named alternates to the state convention include Woody Fond, Carol Crain, Mrs. Ken Olsen and R. B. Gist, Jr.

"I think this is important and I think this is right," Jaquess said. "It's easy to be complacent and let things backslide."

Immediately following Jaquess' presentation, Senator Lee Stafp read a proposed resolution stating the following:

"Regardless of who is to blame, the West Texas State University Student Senate feels it is a tragedy that lives of American students have been lost on a college campus in this nation. When confrontations do arise, all communication channels should be used extensively to avoid violence, destruction and, in some cases, death."

Senate chairman Gary Story asked the senators to vote on whether they wished to make any kind of resolution concerning the two issues.

Jim Ed Wines, a student senator, spoke against passing any such resolution.

"When you sign something like this, you represent the whole student body, he said. "You can't represent them on something like this. It's up to each individual and we have no right."

Main objection by senators was to Jaquess' statement because of its political nature. Some senators said they would back Stafp's however.

But, when it came to a vote, 11 senators said they would not make any such statement, and nine voted for passage of a resolution.

Following that action, the senators voted a 10 cent increase in student service fees beginning next fall.

The fee is to help finance maintenance of a buffalo mascot.

Accident Victim's Funeral Held Here

Funeral services for Raymond Milton Hayes, 64, were conducted Monday morning at LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Canyon with Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of the Lamesa First Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment was at Dreamland Cemetery under the director of LaGrone Funeral Home. Serving as pallbearers were Dean Schaefer, Johnnie McBroom, R. W. Thompson, Felix Pierce, J. D. Byrd, Frank Harrison, Curtis Johnson and W. J. Wooten, Jr.

Mr. Hayes died in a Dumas Hospital after being fatally injured in a traffic accident near Dumas Friday night.

Investigating officers reported that the late model sedan and large trailer house being towed went out of control and went off the right side of the four-lane divided highway making a 360 degree turn back onto the shoulder of the north-bound lane and then veered across two traffic lanes clipping a small foreign made car. The second vehicle involved was driven by Danny Ray Jackson, 23, of Blako, Oklahoma and student at West Texas State University who was not injured in the incident.

Rushed to the hospital, Mr. Hayes apparently had suffered chest injuries and witnesses believed that he may have had a heart seizure.

He was preceded in death by his wife in September 1965.

A member of the Canyon Methodist Church, Mr. Hayes was a petroleum engineer and a member of the Steam Fitters Local of Salt Lake City. He had lived in Canyon for 15 years.

Survivors include a sister-in-law, Mrs. Hosea Foster, and a brother-in-law, Larry Holman, both of Canyon.

Tracksters Meet Their Aspirations

Netters Meet Top Teams And End Winning Season

West Texas State University's Buffaloes ended their baseball season this past weekend with a 25-10-1 record by splitting a doubleheader with New Mexico Highlands University in Las Vegas N.M.

Highlands captured the two Friday games, 5-2, and 4-1 but the Buffaloes rebounded with 6-2 and 6-5 wins on Saturday.

The wins by coach Bob Sloan's ball club more than twice exceeded any amount of victories by a Buffalo baseball team in a single season.

West Texas finished the season with a lofty .314 team batting average as six players hit over .300. Leading the attack were Mel Shivers, Mike Mitchell, Kim Henderson, Clyde Cash, Hal Martin and Bob Sine.

Shivers, who divided time this spring between football and baseball, played in only 21 games, but compiled a sparkling .466 batting mark.

Shortstop Mike Mitchell led the team in four batting departments and tied for the leadership in one other. He led in doubles (13), triples (3), total bases (71) and runs batted in (31) and tied centerfielder Cash for the home run lead with three.

Henderson, the sophomore second baseman, rapped the ball at a .358 clip. Cash, younger brother of major league slugger Norm Cash, upped his average to .348 with a giant series against Highlands.

Cash went two for six in Friday's doubleheader and then collected six hits in seven at bats Saturday to finish the series eight for 13.

Martin, missed the first 15 games with a broken leg but the stocky catcher rapped out 22 hits at bat for a .344 average upon return to the lineup.

Sine not only hit .333, but he was one of the squad's two pitching aces. He led the team in wins and percentage with an eight win-one loss mark for a .889 percentage and played right field when he wasn't pitching.

David Sharp, Amarillo sophomore, won seven games and lost one. Don Waiksnis, among the pitchers who were with the squad all season, had the lowest earned run average—1.53. Sharp was second with a 1.98 ERA and Sine's ERA was 2.56. Jim Albracht, who joined the team after football spring training, allowed no earned runs in his one two-inning relief stint.

Among the regulars, first baseman Allan Runyan led the team in fielding. He committed only two errors out of 307 chances for a .993 mean.

Roscoe (Rocky) Meadors came to West Texas State University with the intention of bettering his best previous effort in the 120-yard high hurdles and that was a high order.

The Carlsbad, N.M., freshman had four times run the 120-yard high hurdles in 14-flat and that was on high school hurdles—three inches lower than college highs.

Meadors hopes of bettering that mark not only faded during the season, but his new hope of being able to beat teammate Randy Thomas, a Borger freshman, weren't appearing to good until Thursday afternoon during a duel meet here against Eastern New Mexico University.

The Carlsbad athlete put all of his ability together that day and nipped Thomas at the tape by a matter of inches to win his first race of the year. In taking the race he also realized his first goal—that of bettering 14-flat.

Both Meadors and Thomas were timed in 13.7, the state's fastest time by collegians this year. A strong wind blowing at their backs aided the times, but those clockings are still the fastest wind-aided times of the season.

Sprinter Rocky Thompson ran his second wind-aided 9.2 time in the 100-yard dash and won the 220 in 21.6. He anchored the Buffalo sprint relay to a winning 41.6 time, one-tenth of a second slower than the Buffs' best effort this season.

Two other Buffaloes set new school records during that duel meet, in which Eastern won, 81-52. Steve Butler high-jumped 6-5 for a new school record and Warren Snow had his career best of 14-6 in the pole vault.

"Randy (Thomas) is one of the better hurdlers anywhere, but I do have better straight-away speed," said Meadors. "I'm just glad I finally put it all together."

Meadors had earlier run a wind-aided 14.2 in the West Texas State University Invitational on the Buffs' new seven-lane Uni-Turf track. In that race Thomas stepped over the timbers in 13.9.

Meadors has run the third leg of the Buffalo sprint relay all season. Others running Thursday were Thomas, at anchor, leadoff man Ron Duffer of Dumas and Hereford's Gary Goodin.

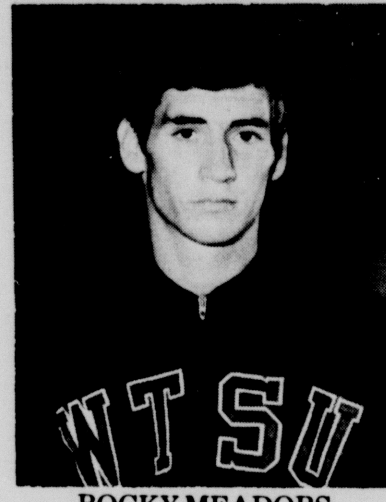

"I'm looking forward to us having a better spring relay team next spring and, oh yes—I'd like to improve on the 13.7 time," said Meadors.

"The entire track team should be improved next season," he said. "Coach Bob Kitchens has his eye on several standout high school athletes and he expects to sign several of those within the next few weeks. We lose only miler Don Cantrell and co-captain Jack Moore, who threw the discus."

Moore hurled the discus 168-2½ this season and Cantrell had a best effort in the mile of 4:22.

Meadors, one of three married athletes on the track team, and his wife, the former Pam Pool of Carlsbad, are the parents of a nine-month old daughter, Piper Lynn.

ROCKY MEADORS

West Texas State University's first step into big-time collegiate tennis resulted in an 18-11 season record.

Coach David Ken't squad played some of the nation's ranked teams and were never blanked.

The Buffaloes, led by little Leo Estopare, defeated Southwest Conference foes in five out of seven matches. They defeated Texas Tech twice, Baylor, Texas A&M and Rice and fell once to Texas Tech and once to Rice.

West Texas also defeated defending Missouri Valley Conference champion North Texas State University once in three matches.

Estopare, St. Louis junior, is a former national junior college doubles champion. He compiled a 23-6 record this year and was 7-0 against Southwest Conference foes. His biggest win was against Tico Carrero of Rice, the defending SWC champion.

Paul Tobin, also from St. Louis and the former national junior college singles champ, played number two singles most of the season. The sophomore won 18 matches and lost 11.

Mike Bolton, who played number two and number three singles, had a 20-9 record. As the number two singles man he won matches against Mississippi State, University of Oklahoma and Texas A&M.

Freshman Scott Pool had 16 wins and 13 losses in singles competition and Alton Setliff of Turkey, Tex., won 10 matches and lost 16.

In doubles, Estopare and Tobin won 14 and lost eight. Pool and Bolton had a 17-8 mark as a doubles team. Estopare and Setliff had a 3-1 standard. Pool and Tobin combined to win the men's doubles division of the Abilene Easter Tournament.

Ron Edwards Given Award

Ronald Edwards received a $250 scholarship in banking recently at the spring convocation of the School of Business at West Texas State University.

The award was presented by Bill Adams, president of the First National Bank of Canyon. The award, given for the second time this year, is based on scholastic excellence and interest and aptitude of the recipient in the banking profession.

A senior finance major, Edwards was recently inducted into Alpha Chi national scholastic honor society for having maintained better than a B average in all university work.

Both Edwards and last year's recipient Tommy Barrow of Andrews, will enter the banking profession upon graduation from the university this spring.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—and so do its readers.

HEW Grant Is Given WT Library

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $7,784 grant for the West Texas State University Library, Dr. James P. Cornette, WTSU president, said today.

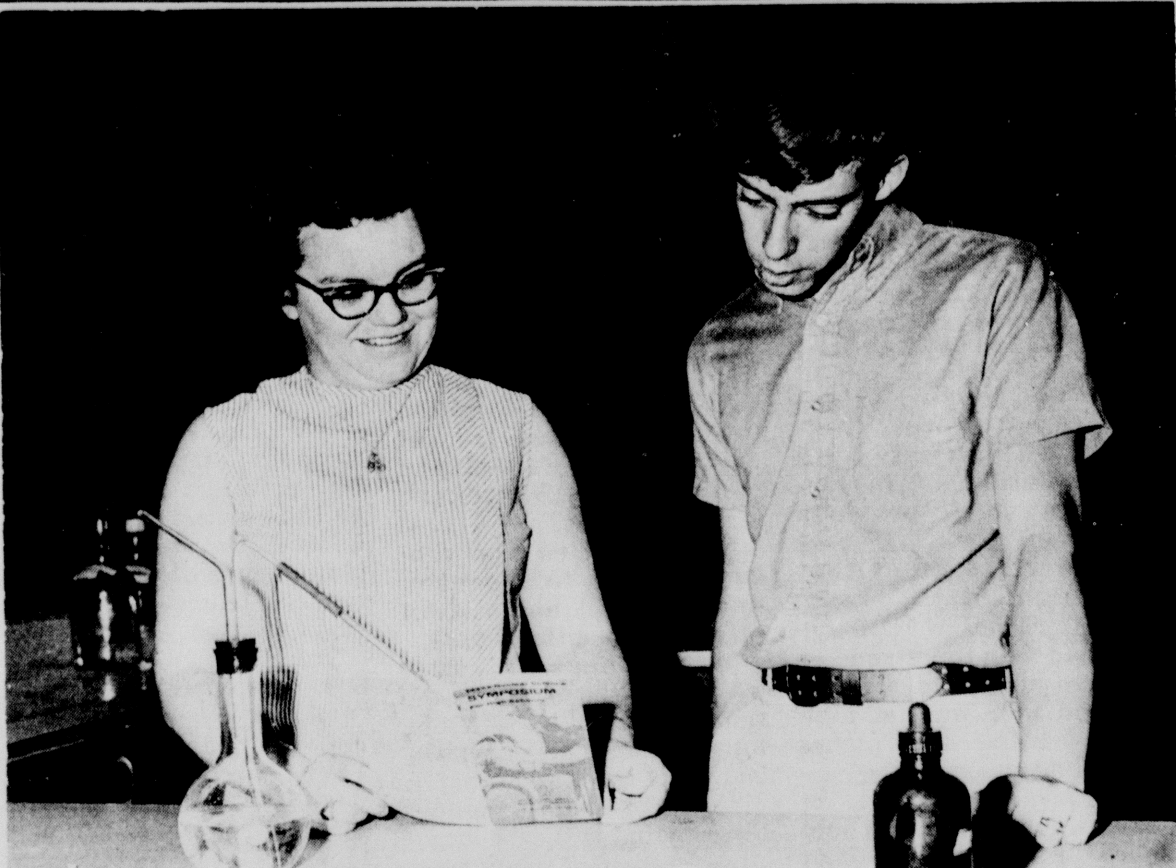

It was the fourth consecutive year the university has received an HEW grant to increase its library materials. The grant was made under the College Library Resources Program of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

Frank M. Blackburn, university librarian, said "the funds must be used to strengthen and supplement the library's collection." He said books, micro-materials and research materials will be purchased.

The HEW allocation included a $2,500 basic grant and a $5,284 supplemental grant. This compares to $15,374 received in 1969 and $5,000 awarded in each of the previous two years.

Blackburn said the larger amount last year included $8,167 from the Southwest Academic Library Consortium. He said funds from the consortium were not available for fiscal 1970 because none was granted it by HEW.
